July News

Welcome! We have a lot of exciting events coming up. Please check our website regularly for the most up-to-date information.

Save the Date!

Maine author Bob Keyes will discuss his recent book, The Isolation Artist: Scandal, Deception and the Last Days of Robert Indiana on Wednesday, July 19 at 6:30 p.m.

At the time of his death, artist Robert Indiana (best known for his 1965 LOVE sculpture), was a very rich man surrounded by people of questionable motives. In his book, author Bob Keyes examines the rumors of fraud that dogged the artist, as well as his final days surrounded by people of questionable motives.

Hoops and juggling balls were flying during our recent Summer Reading Program Kickoff, when Steve Corning and Nettie Gentempo led juggling and hooping workshops.

There's still time to register your kids for the program; please contact Allison for more information.

The Bugmobile is Coming!

We will welcome Chewonki Traveling Natural History to the library on Wednesday, July 5, at 4:00 p.m. Chewonki's science educators provide live, interactive experiences as they explore intriguing animals and natural phenomena. The Bugmobile will transport the world of arthropods—insects and their relatives—into the library. Using models, costumes, and live specimens, the educator will explain the unique characteristics of four major groups of arthropods. Live “bug” species will introduce some of the fascinating adaptations essential for survival, such as mimicry, camouflage, armor, and the use of venom.
