March News

Welcome! Here's what's new at the library. Please check our website regularly for the most up-to-date information.

Author Talk

We are thrilled to welcome back naturalist Chris Lewey, along with his co-authors Sharon Fisher and Jane Lounsbury, for a discussion of their recent book, The Science of Watching, the Art of Seeing and the Power of Nature Absorption on Wednesday, March 13 at 6:30 p.m. Should we need a snow date, this program will be rescheduled to March 18 at 6:30 p.m.

The Science of the Art of SEEING,

and the Power of NATURE ABSORPTION

Chris Lewey
S.M. Fisher
J.K. Lounsbury

The book explores a path of intuition, healing, and spiritual transformation, and provides a useful tool for birders, nature enthusiasts, travelers, and anyone seeking to increase their knowledge, experience, and insight, going beyond identification. It also includes field exercises and nature encounters for families. Copies of the book will be available for purchase.

Solar Eclipse

Maine will be in the path of a total solar eclipse on April 8. Although we won't experience 100% totality here in Harrison, we'll be pretty darn close!

We have eclipse glasses for safe viewing available at the library, and we'll be hosting a viewing party at the library on April 8 from 3-4 p.m.

If you are interested in citizen science, NASA is encouraging people to participate in several easy data collection projects during the eclipse, suitable for families to do together.

2024 Oscar Predictions Contest

Open to Harrison Village Library card holders. Select your predictions for the winner for each of the 6 major categories; the contest winner will be drawn from a pool of correct (or closest to correct) answers, and will receive a copy of Vanity Fair Oscar Night Sessions: A Decade of Portraits from the After-Party.

You may submit one ballot. You do not need a Gmail account to enter, but you must share your email to vote online. Paper ballots are also available at the library. Voting closes at 6:00 p.m. on March 10. We'll be screening award-winning films later this month, be sure to check our website for more information!
