

Harrison Village Library

Maine Author David Florig
Monday, September 23, 6:30 p.m.

Maine author David Florig will discuss his new novel, The Shattered Curling Stone, centered around young Ailsa Maclaren, who takes up curling at a time when women were neither encouraged, nor often permitted, to play the game. David will read from his new book as well as his award-winning The Stones of Ailsa Craig, will discuss the sport of curling, and will offer a book signing.

September News

Welcome! Here's a look at what's new at the library. Please check our website for more details on upcoming events.

Thank you, volunteers!

We've had a lot of help from volunteers this summer, and would like to recognize their efforts.

Thanks to Andrea Mattson, Debbie Gahm, Melanie Hubbard, Nancy Bracken, and Pat McEachen, we're more than halfway through the mammoth project of re-barcoding the collection.

Karen-Taylor-Wholley, Sarah Bernard, Pat Brandenberger, Cindi Kuklinski, and Sheila Hornby have helped care for the garden.

If you would like to help with either the garden or the barcoding project, please speak to Kathleen--we can still use you!

We've got a new chess set, and want to see it put to use! Feel free to grab a friend and stop by to play during our open hours. If you're interested in leading a chess club, please contact Kathleen.

We're planning for fall and winter programs, and would love to have your input! Please let us know if there is a topic or activity you are interested in.
